2025 Disc Golf Adventure IX

Thursday 2/20 to Sunday 2/23, Orlando FL

If you are interested, please let me know whether you are “in,” “committed,” a “maybe,” or a “not sure, but keep me in the loop.”

What is the adventure?

We get out to new areas to play lots of disc golf at several courses and at least 50 holes a day. We will be staying in Orlando Thursday–Sunday (2/20-23/2025.) On past adventures, we have prepared group breakfasts, packed lunches, prepared dinners with the grocery bills split, or gone out to local restaurants. We have rented a van or individual cars to get around. Every time it’s been a fabulous time.

Please answer the following questions and email to DiscnDudes@Gmail.com with “Adventure 2025” in the subject line.

The questions:

- 1. Do you want to book your own room or be included in one of the rental houses?*
- 2. If you want to stay in one of the rentals, which house/bedroom are you interested in?*

Accommodations: Disclaimer, I know as much as you about these properties; check out the links. The bedroom assignment may get shuffled around depending on the number committed.

- If you want to claim one of the beds, it is first-come, first-served. The sooner the better for choice and down payment. Bedroom choice may get shuffled around, depending on the number of houses we can fully utilize. If the house isn't full, the cost will be distributed among the housemates.
Or, you can book your own, but try to get in the same general area, the northwest side (see links above). Getting across Orlando can take a long time. There is a Holiday Inn Express close link here It's a bit spendy
There is a Suburban Studios close link here It's a little over $100 per night

Transportation:

I recommend flying into Orlando which is about 30-40 minutes from our rentals and a couple of the courses. Sun Country has reasonable fares.

My suggestion is Thursday a.m. arrival, and coordinate car rental with other dudes in your house.

I also suggest a Sunday p.m. departure to be able to get in one last round before leaving. There is a fun course and some food options a few minutes north of the Orlando airport if you have to kill some time.

Please let me know your flight info when you have booked your flights.

Meal Plan:

We will work on the meal plan after we figure out who's in each house. I can generate grocery lists.

Breakfast will be prepared in each house.

Lunches for each day will be packed in the a.m. in each house.

Dinners will be arranged by each house, in-house or out to restaurants.

Please let me know if you have any questions or other issues not addressed here. I will update this document periodically, so please save this link.
